Montreal, CANADA, September 25, 2001 – Biorthex inc. announced today that on September 7, 2001, it has received a summons from Eric Weynant and Imago SA to appear in court on September 25, 2001 in Paris concerning the grant of exclusive property rights for the use of a porous Titanium-Nickel Alloy technology.

Biorthex inc. uses this technology in accordance with exclusive rights conferred by its partners and in which terms the company, among others, has been granted a licence and property rights on the patents for the use of the said technology throughout the world, except in Russia.

Attorneys of Biorthex inc. have taken the necessary measures to conduct the case for the defence of its interests and notably disprove the plaintiff's allegations. Biorthex inc. is confident in the means that are available to the company and intends to counter conclusions sought by the plaintiff.

Biorthex inc. is a biotechnology company that designs, develops and markets innovative products for the surgical treatment of spinal disorders to become a leader in the field of orthopaedics.
